

The public should be able to purchase one channel at a time. It's ridiculous that I have to pay $50/month when I just watch maybe half a dozen channels. The price for the individual channels must be fairly priced ($2 or less in my opinion) for non-premium channels (channels other than movie/sports channels).